IN TUNGSTEN PLACERS

FRANK MAREK TELLS OF WORK OUT ON THE MOJAVE DESERT

Frank Marek, 250 S. Verdugo road, the City of Glendale's expert in forestry, who recently returned from Atolia and the Randsburg tungsten district on the Mojave desert, says that the work on the placers while still going on is not half as great as it was when he reached that spot about Feb. 10. "At that time," he said, "the district was crowded with tungsen miners of all kinds. The placers that I and my partner were working were old tailings chiefly. We did fairly well with them but when we had obtained a considerable output of the ore the price dropped or rather no price at all was to be had because no one would buy.

"I have been informed that the reason for this was that the producers ran the price up so high that the steel manufacturers determined to get in shipments from South America and having done so the purchase of the desert tungsten ceased entirely. I don't think, however, that these conditions will prevail long. The uses of tungsten are increasing every day and it is certain to find ultimately a steady market just as gold, silver, copper or lead has a constant market. The price will then be steady or will fluctuate very little.

"It should be possible under stable conditions to make a profit out of tungsten mining. It is comparatively easy to handle. The washing is wet washing and water is one of the expenses. One needs, as we had, a pipe line. We purchased our water from the Consolidated Mining company. It was pumped to us from the Baltic mine. Our claims were in the heart of what is known as the "Stringer" district.

"Most of the tungsten concentrates we sold were purchased by local dealers. The dealer to whom we sold allowed $72.50 a unit. A unit is 20 pounds. The tungsten was supposed to be 70 per cent and for that he allowed $75 a unit. For each per cent above that he allowed 50 cents and for each per cent below he deducted 50 cents. Our tungsten was particularly clean as we were particular with it. It contained very little black sand or iron.

"There was some talk of a combine among the producers for the purpose of handling all the tungsten in the district and keeping up prices; but it was not carried out during the time I was there and I believe it has not been found feasible since. There are too many divergent interests and there is too little spirit of unity.

"Water is the great necessity in the Stringer district. It costs $2.25 for 1000 gallons and when the water is delivered by pipe line one generally finds that he is getting just about two-thirds of what he is paying for. One of the grocery stores in Randsburg has a tank on its wagon and delivers water at a pretty profitable rate—for itself. Everything on the desert is high in price and everyone who has something to sell wants two prices for it.

"I effected several improvements in the wet washers we were using and these improvements have been copied and the improved wet washer as we used it, with the undershot, agitated sluice is now generally used all over the placers. We could handle about fifteen tons of gravel a day and managed to save about 90 per cent of the values. The work is interesting but as it is not remunerative at present I thought discretion would be a virtue and an economy so I dropped the mining business for the time being."

HONOR TO MUNICIPAL BAND

Glendale Municipal band, which is under the direction of F. E. Thorpe and the management of C. D. Furst, has covered itself with honor during the Knights Templar week at Los Angeles. Besides taking part in the various parades, where its fine appearance in attractive uniform made it the cynosure of all eyes, the band had the honor of being selected to play at the great drill competition at the amphitheater, Twelfth and Pico streets, Los Angeles, Wednesday.

On that occasion the crack drill teams, Raper Commandery No. 1 of Indianapolis; Newton Commandery, Englewood Commandery, Chicago, Ill., and Oriental Commandery, Kansas City, won the prizes. The Glendale band played the music for these organizations as they marched on and off the drill ground and also played during the intervals.

The band also took part in the Electrical parade, Thursday night, and in the Floral parade, Friday morning.

TRUSTEES' MEETING

BEGIN PROCEEDINGS TO IMPROVE GLENDALE AVENUE—VERDUGO WASH MATTER

The regular meeting of the board of trustees of the City of Glendale was held in the city hall, Thursday evening, June 22, 1916. Present, Trustees Chas. Grist, R. M. Jackson, F. L. Muhleman, G. B. Woodberry. Also present, T. W. Watson, city manager, and J. C. Sherer, city clerk.

In the absence of the chairman of the board, Trustee Muhleman was elected president pro tem.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

An application for permit to run a motor bus was presented from L. C. Rice, approved by the city manager, and was on motion of Trustee Grist granted.

The city engineer presented a map and specifications showing the proposed improvement of Glendale Avenue north of First street.

On motion, Resolution Number 916, "A Resolution of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale adopting a map and specifications, for the improvement of a portion of Glendale avenue, together with the district to be assessed for the improvement thereof," was taken up for reading.

On motion of Trustee Grist, the same upon being read was adopted.

On motion, Resolution Number 917, "A Resolution of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale declaring its intention to improve a portion of Glendale avenue in said city," was taken up for reading.

On motion of Trustee Woodberry, the same upon being read was adopted.

An application was read from Mrs. A. B. Heacock for a permit to conduct a dairy at 517 W. Ninth street, same being approved by the milk inspector, was, on motion of Trustee Jackson, granted.

An application was read from the Kalem company, by A. C. Gage, requesting that permits be issued to Geo. A. Wilkins and A. C. Gage for the privilege of carrying a revolver at all times in the city limits of the City of Glendale. This application was accompanied by a communication from City Marshal G. H. Herald, recommending that the permits be granted, but to be good only during business hours. Upon motion of Trustee Jackson, the permits were granted in accordance with the recommendation of the city marshal.

Trustee Woodberry made a statement reporting that the city manager and himself had met with Messrs. Ross and Thom and conferred with them in regard to the proposed improvement along the banks of the Verdugo wash. He reported that these gentlemen object strongly to the proposed plan of planting trees on the banks of the wash through their property, that they had suggested a plan for work of a more permanent character to be done in the wash and implied that they would bear a proportion of the expense of such work. The city manager added to the report the statement that the estimated cost of the improvement to the city for approximately a distance of three thousand feet at One Thousand ($1.000.00) Dollars; the said plan not including the planting of any trees. The matter was discussed at some length informally, but no action taken.

OPENS MUSIC HOUSE

E. L. Ballenger, a local composer of songs, who has been making for himself a reputation in the music world, has opened a music publishing house in Los Angeles, at 520 S. Broadway, suite 314. Mr. Ballenger has experienced the difficulty of getting the eastern houses to take any notice of western music and musical composers, and has been contemplating his present move in the interests of the Pacific coast composers for some time.

Mr. Ballenger has written the words and music of many songs, notable among them being "God's Love Is Above the Night," a sacred song for a soprano or tenor voice. Another is "The Song of the Hermit," very skilfully written for a baritone voice. The words of another song, "I Never Knew," were written by Mr. Ballenger and the music by Homer Tourjee. To show that he can write any style of music Mr. Ballenger has published a ragtime solo, "In Manana Land," which is clever and catchy.

Amateur writers in California and adjoining states will now have opportunity to publish their compositions and get them before the public.

LIBRARY STORY HOUR

MRS. DANFORD WILL BEGIN TALKS TO CHILDREN WEDNESDAY, JUNE 28

Now that the schools are closed both parents and children will be pleased to learn that Mrs. Danford, the librarian of the public library, has made arrangements to begin the Story hour, which was so great a success last summer. This arrangement will begin Wednesday, June 28, at 9 a. m. It will be remembered that about 100 children regularly took advantage of this hour last summer. It is believed that number will be exceeded this year.

Mrs. Danford and her assistants take the greatest care of the children so that even the youngest has constant supervision. Parents need not hesitate to send their children alone. Everything that can be done to attend to the comfort and care of the children will be done. So many children attend and the accommodations at the library are so limited that it is impossible to find room for parents along with the children, or for any adults.

The librarian has arranged with Mrs. Vanatta, a well-known artist of Glendale, to give the children a talk on Wednesday morning, on "Art and Artists." This opening day will be a "Morning With the Artists." Mrs. Vanatta will tell also about her life in France, where she studied for some time. Books bearing on this subject will be brought to the attention of the children.

Mrs. Danford will give the children a talk on the use of the library and of the catalogues. These talks were found of the greatest benefit last summer and resulted in an increased use of the library by the children and also in a more intelligent use of books.

There will be a miscellaneous program throughout the season. Special patriotic events will be taken notice of and the children will be introduced to patriotic literature. There will be interesting talks on folk lore, mornings with the poets, talks on flowers and trees, birds and birdhouses, bees and butterflies and many other subjects.

Parents are requested to have their children promptly in attendance at the opening and other talks. At all these talks special books bearing on the subjects will be available for the use of the children. It would be impossible to exaggerate the value of this training and parents will do well to see that their children take advantage of it.

MRS. F. J. WILLETT

Mary Letitia Willett was born at Troy, N. Y., October 30, 1866, and passed away at Thornycroft hospital, Glendale, June 22, 1916, at 7:53 p. m., aged 49 years, 7 months and 22 days.

The deceased was a member of Davenport Temple 237, Pythian Sisters, Davenport, Iowa, and a member of Carnation Rebekah Lodge No. 257 of Glendale, Cal. She is survived by her husband, F. J. Willett, her daughter, Mrs. Arline Hallihan, and her grandson, George Francis Hallihan. Besides her immediate family two brothers, J. J. Willson of Green Island, New York, J. R. Willson of Newark, N. J., and one sister, Mrs. Rhoda E. Bayard, of Brooklyn, N. Y., mourn her death.

Episcopal services will be held at the Jewel City Undertaking parlors, Saturday afternoon at 2:30. Carnation Rebekah lodge will conduct services at the grave in Forest Lawn cemetery.

The following are the pallbearers: W. E. Heald, Stanley Frentz, M. T. Johnson, Lou Hayman, R. T. Foss and H. E. Johnson.

KALEM FILM COMPANY

The Kalem company is working hard on the production of the latest serial it has undertaken, "The Girl From 'Frisco." Thursday the company was in the oil field of Sherman, taking realistic scenes, for the third picture in the serial, "The Oil Field Plot." Among the exciting scenes in this picture are the blowing up of an oil well and derrick and the bringing in of a gusher. True Boardman, of "Stingaree" fame, is featured in these films as is also Marin Sais, who plays "The Girl From 'Frisco."

BIRDHOUSE CONTEST

CHILDREN ARE INTERESTED IN PLAN TO CONSERVE THE LOCAL BIRDS

Interest is spreading in the birdhouse construction contest which is being conducted under the auspices of the Glendale Garden society and the committee in charge is desirous of extending the scope of the competition so that Tropico, Monte Vista Valley, La Crescenta, Montrose, La Canada, Eagle Rock, Casa Verdugo and Burbank will be represented.

Throughout the country the protection of useful birds has become a conservation issue of foremost importance. In many cities bird house construction contests have become a feature of civic betterment and boys and girls have had an opportunity to display their ingenuity and mechanical skill in providing attractive and permanent homes for the birds which are useful in the various communities.

St. Paul, Minn., was the pioneer of this birdhouse construction contest and the work which its school boys and girls have done started a nationwide movement for the care and protection of birds. Glendale has now taken up this laudable work and its school children have evinced such interest in the preliminary plans that the competition is certain to rival similar contests throughout the country. Already the children have shown their love of birds by the generous manner in which they have provided baths for their feathered friends.

Glendale and the neighboring communities have many species of useful birds. To provide attractive houses suited to the particular needs of these birds offers a form of competition that is entertaining and instructive, for every youthful artisan who would strive for the handsome prizes which will be awarded by the public spirited citizens of the different communities, must learn something about the birds for which they would construct homes.

To stimulate interest among the children the Birdhouse Contest committee of the Glendale Garden society requests that the citizens of Tropico, Monte Vista Valley, La Crescenta, Montrose, Eagle Rock, La Canada, Burbank and Casa Verdugo donate prizes for the entrants of their respective sections. Children of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades are eligible to compete, and any prizes suitable for them will be acceptable.. Special prizes for High school competitors will also be awarded. All who wish to further the work of protecting the birds by offering prizes are requested to communicate with Mr. C. J. Orff of Glendale.

(Signed) C. J. ORFF, 1109½ W. Broadway, Chairman Birdhouse Committee.

WILLIAM SMITH, 334 S. Adams, Publicity Agent Birdhouse Committee.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, JUNE 23, 1916

SITUATION IN MEXICO

The ambushing of 500 American troops in Mexico the other day by 5000 Mexicans and the killing of 12 and the capture of 17 is an incident so serious that it is quite probable that war may result at any moment. The Mexican does not understand why war has not been declared long ago by the United States. He would like this country to declare war and so have the odium of having started a conflict that would not be likely to come to an end for some years.

President Wilson, while sending a large body of militia to the border to assist Gen. Funston has not taken the serious step of declaring war though further developments may cause a proclamation of war at any moment. It is most unfortunate that the movement for preparedness should not have come at least a year ago. It is a serious matter to have to begin to prepare for war at the moment that war breaks out. It is pitiable to think of brave troops being exposed to a cruel and vindictive enemy without having ample means at their command to combat him.

One does not like to think of what may be the fate of the seventeen American troops made prisoners by the Mexicans. The usual Mexican custom has been to shoot at once prisoners taken in war. This is an easy way out of the trouble of feeding an enemy when one's own troops have but little to eat. Even some of the European nations are credited just now with inhuman treatment of prisoners. Villa, when he was careering through Sonora shot all the prisoners taken. It will be remembered that Madera was accidentally shot. It was reported that he attempted flight and the "ley fuga," the law of flight, was applied to him. It is enough in Mexico to shoot the prisoner and then to explain that he attempted to escape.

In the present situation there are elements of war. Should it come it would not be an easy war nor a mere walk-over. The Mexicans are hard fighters and if well supplied with ammunition can give no end of trouble. When the embargo on the exportation of arms and ammunition was lifted by President Wilson the Mexicans were supplied with millions of rounds of ammunition of all kinds and that very ammunition is being used at present against American troops.

THE UNCLEAN HOUSEFLY

Just how unclean the ordinary housefly is needs the scientific appreciation of a government scientist to state. The housefly carries about with him, we are told, an amount of uncleanness equal to 2 to 3 per cent of its weight. If the average man were as unclean as that he would have on his body about four pounds of filth. A cow or a horse as dirty as a housefly would carry about 20 to 30 pounds of filth. The fly does not weigh much but it can harbor millions of disease-giving germs. As a matter of fact, the dirt on a housefly is about one-half bacteria,—bacteria of many kinds, large and small, thick and thin, long and short.

If, out of the abundance of its bacteria the fly deposits a typhoid germ in a can of milk there is every likelihood that in a short time there will be enough typhoid germs in that milk to make it a dangerous and frequently a fatal poison. In the experiments on this subject conducted by the department of agriculture a number of flies were caught and washed in sterile, distilled water. Unclean germs to the amount of from 2 to 3 per cent of the fly's weight settled at the bottom of the tubes. About one-half of this was bacteria.

In addition there remained in solution in the water enough dirt to discolor it. The fly can and does carry the germs of tuberculosis. Flies which have been allowed to have access to animals suffering from this disease were caught and washed in sterile water. Inoculation tests from them subsequently proved that they bore living, virulent tubercle bacilli.

Under these conditions the department of health urges an unrelenting war on the house fly. It states that the presence of cows, horses, goats and other animals in fields near human residences is extremely dangerous, as the excreta of these animals are fertile breeding places of the fly, which otherwise could be easily exterminated. One fly will in a season give origin to millions of others. The war against the fly is as necessary as that against the mosquito and it is pleasing to note that many cities in the United States have taken up this warfare and are offering rewards for the killing of the largest number of flies. One city already has almost driven out this dangerous pest.

COURSE OF THE EUROPEAN WAR

Russia's spectacular advance from the Riga region in the north to the Styr river northwest of Lutzk is now being met by German troops who have been rushed from the reserves in France to the struggle in Galicia and Bukowina. The enormous advantage the Germans have by reason of the strategic railways that stretch to the Russian border is seen in this rapid movement of the German troops. Left to themselves the Austrians would long ago have been wiped off the face of the war map. As it is they have been broken up and scattered and the Russian armies are converging on Lemberg.

The capture of Lemberg would be little short of a calamity to the Germans hence the kaiser and his general staff have sought to stiffen up the Austrian resistance by means of German troops. Wherever the German trops have been thrown into the conflict in Galicia or Bukowina the fighting has immediately assumed a desperate character and the Russians have found out at once the difference in the quality of the material they were facing.

Up to this time the Russians have captured 172,484 Teuton prisoners—both German and Austrian. There is as yet no indication whether or not the Germans will be able to save the Austrians by their desperate fighting. Russia has enormous numbers in the field and seems to be imitating Germany's own favorite tactics of throwing masses of troops on any single point in the hope of breaking through the hostile lines. Up to this point these tactics have succeeded against the Austrians; but not against the Germans.

Meantime while this desperate fighting is going on chiefly on the banks of the Styr the Austrian army under General Pflanzer is broken into several parts and is fleeing through the Carpathians, losing men and munitions at every step. The loss of men in killed, wounded and prisoners, on the Austrian side, is not less than 300,000. This is a serious blow to the Teutons and may easily prove fatal to both Germans and Austrians unless the Russian advance can be stayed.

There is no question of the fighting valor of the young Russians. They have behaved in this advance with all the fire and coolness of seasoned troops. It is stated that they are sent to the attack in waves fifteen deep and sometimes with a numerical superiority of five to one. In the region of Vorontchine the Russians put the Germans to flight after desperate hand-to-hand fighting. After one day and night of terrific encounter in this region the Germans gave way slowly only to return to the attack next morning and to succumb at last in the close encounter before the steady pressure of the Russian masses.

Supplied with ample ammunition as he now seems to be, the Russian is proving himself a most formidable antagonist. Many German prisoners are in the hands of the Russians. In other ways the Russians appear to have made up for lost time. Their artillery fire is described as terrific even by the Germans. It is too soon, however, to conclude that the Russians have gained or will gain their object in this advance. It is too soon to state that they will take Lemberg. The German generals are of different caliber altogether from the Austrian and are not to be caught sleeping.

Meantime nothing has developed on the front in Flanders, nor yet at Saloniki, nor at Verdun; though action at any or at all of these points may be expected at any moment.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Evans, 113 Orange street, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pearce, 1559 Milford street, are among the Glendale contingent who will attend the Knights Templar ball in the Shrine auditorium tonight.

Mrs. R. D. Goss, 714 W. Fifth street, entertained Miss Elizabeth Irvine of New York city, Thursday. Miss Irvine is an accomplished musician and an old-time friend of Mrs. Goss.

Principal G. U. Moyse, of the Glendale Union High school, leaves Tuesday for Elkhorn, Wisconsin, where he will spend the summer vacation with relatives. He will be accompanied by his children, Hollis, Doris and Laura.

Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, 101 Brand boulevard, and Mrs. J. M. Border, 231 S. Louise, attended the Robert Louis Stevenson readings, given by Charles Farwell Edson, in the large auditorium on the eighth floor of Bullock's store, Los Angeles, Thursday afternoon. The readings were varied by songs from Stevenson, sung by Miss Martin.

Mrs. G. H. Martin, in company with Mrs. Roy L. Young and Mr. J. L. Martin, left this morning for the northern part of the state, where they will visit relatives and friends. Mrs. Martin will drive her machine by way of the Ridge Route to San Francisco, then to Stockton, where she will be joined later by Dr. H. G. Martin. The return trip will be made by the Coast Route.

Evangeline Hunchberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Hunchberger, 341 Central avenue, will take part in the great ballet tonight at the Shrine auditorium. Two hundred and fifty girls will take part in this brilliant spectacle. Miss Hunchberger is the only Glendale girl who will take part. She has been in all the electrical pageants throughout the week, taking the part of one of the fairies on the float called "Night."

The young people of the Epworth League are planning a very unique and attractive entertainment, which will take place this evening in the church parlors of the First M. E. church. All the young people of the church and their friends are invited to attend and enjoy a good time. An interesting set of progressive games will be one of the features of the evening. The eats are too good to be mentioned and above all there will be a wonderful surprise for all.

Mrs. H. M. Merrill of Elrose avenue leaves Saturday for Loma Linda, where she will remain for a week before leaving for Joplin, Mo., her old home, which she has not visited in ten years. She expects to remain there for a year at least, but expects that eventually the call of California will be too strong to resist. Mrs. Merrill recently disposed of the Glendale Dye Works, of which she was the owner, and having had no vacation in the past ten years, feels that she needs and deserves a rest. Her Glendale friends hope the change will be beneficial to her but that she will decide to return to California.

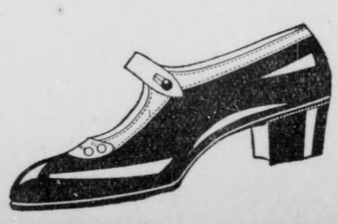
"THE RED FRONT"



WAR A JUDGMENT OF GOD

SAN FERNANDO, June 23.—England, Russia and France may curtail Germany's military strength, but they never will be able to wipe Germany from the map, according to Dr. P. T. Magan, a Seventh-day Adventist orator of ability, who gave a thrilling address at the annual camp-meeting here last night. His subject was, "The Great War and Its Relation to the End of the World." He said a Bible prophet, ages ago, foretold the splitting of the iron monarchy of Rome into ten divisions, the plucking up of three of these divisions by the roots, and the continuance of the other seven to the end of time. He pronounced the war a judgment from God, the most terrible since the great flood of Noah's day.

"Some of you may ask," he said, "'do you think this very war is mentioned in the Bible?' I surely do. Is it not true that a considerable portion of the Bible is given to the story of the wars of the nations? In the early chapters of Genesis you will find the story of the wars of Chedarlaomar. Does not the Bible tell the story of the wars of Assyria, of Babylon, of the Medes, of the Persians, of the Greeks, of the Romans, of the Syrians? Yea, verily, and many of them are mentioned by name. It would be passing strange that a war, the mightiest of them all, the mightiest that ever has shaken this old world, should be passed by without specific mention in the book of God.

"My friends, the prophet of God spoke of this when he said, as recorded in Hosea 9:7: 'The days of visitation are come. The days of recompense are come. Israel shall know it. The prophet is a fool. The spiritual man is mad for the multitude of thine iniquity and thy great hatred.' True indeed it is that the prophet who has not the word of God as his guide, knows absolutely nothing about the outcome of the titanic struggle. But God's people, says Hosea, shall know it.

"Beginning with the closing days of July, 1914, a change came in God's dealing with the nations of the earth. Something happened at that time in the councils of heaven. I mean to say this, that we then entered upon an era of judgment for this world, the like of which we have never seen since the days of the flood.

"Never, since the days of Noah, has such a fearful judgment come to this earth as has come in the terrible, titanic struggle that is soaking the fields of Europe in a welter of blood. From some angles of vision, the present pentecost of calamity which is sweeping over Europe, and carrying ten thousands of men to untimely graves, which is causing women to sit widows in their homes, hearths to be desolated, famine and hunger to stalk through the land, babes to die for lack of milk—I say that this calamity is in some ways a far more dreadful, crueler one than even the flood, for when, in the days of Noah, the flood came, there were mighty rains from heaven, the waters rose on every side, and in a few short moments of time as it were, all the pain and sorrow were over. Only in that all the world is not included is this cataclysm less awful than the flood.

"This is not a war of victories, but of extermination. Men ask me, 'Will the Allies crush the Central powers? Will the Central powers wipe out the allied nations?' No, neither will happen. Years ago a Bible prophet spoke concerning these same nations of Europe, and said that the iron monarchy of Rome would be divided into 10 parts, that three of these would be plucked up by the roots, and that the other seven would remain to the coming of Christ. England, Germany and France are among the seven.

"In olden days battles took their names from the places where they were fought, but it is pretty hard to name a battle nowadays. When you think that the battle line on the western front extends from the Vosges mountains of Switzerland over 400 miles to the waters of the North sea, it is hard to name a battle when all along that line they are fighting for all they are worth. In the eastern theater the battle line begins on the shores of the Gulf of Riga and extends for thousands of miles to Salonica on the Aegean. My friends, it is stupendous. Carnage in battles of old was a mere few thousands, but official reports of the Teuton losses show that almost a half million men have perished at Verdun alone."

BIRD AND FLOWER CLUB

The trip to be taken by the members, big and little, of the Bird and Flower club, next Monday afternoon, to Verdugo Park, promises much enjoyment to all concerned. Members and friends will meet at 1111 W. Broadway not later than two o'clock. The street car for Verdugo Park leaves the corner of Brand and Broadway at 2:15. A notebook and pencil to jot down names of birds and flowers is suggested. The weekly prize will be awarded to the child able to write down the greatest number of names respectively of birds and flowers seen that afternoon. Photographs will be taken in the park of the members and friends. The first child to see a nest will be photographed standing under the tree or shrub where the little nest is hidden.—NANNO WOODS.

What! Shall the unquiet of revenge, of injured pride, of vanity, which finds its root of restlessness in every glance, of envy that corrodes the heart, of jealousy that consumes the very body like a fire, of hatred that sleeplessly seeks its end —shall these that hold rule so often in our hearts depart, driven away like foul birds from the spirit they keep peaceless? Yes, He has left His peace to us. It will, step by step, rule in our hearts. Born of love, it will be made greater day by day by love. . . . Our pride will pass into the glory of forgiving, envy and even jealousy be lost in the blessedness of sacrifice. . . . We shall then have the peace of triumphant love. —Stopford A. Brooke.

WORRY WILL SURELY KILL

Worry injures beyond repair certain cells of the brain, and the brain being the nutritive center of the body, the other organs become gradually injured, and when some diseases of these organs or a combination of them arise death finally ensues.

Thus worry kills. Insidiously, like many other diseases, it creeps upon the brain in the form of a single, constant, never-lost idea, and, as a dropping of water over a period of years will wear a groove in the stone, so does worry gradually, imperceptibly and no less surely destroy the brain cells that lead all the rest, which are, so to speak, the commanding officers of mental power, health and motion.

Worry, to make the theory still stronger, is an irritant at certain points which produces little harm if it comes at intervals or irregularity. Occasional worriment the brain can cope with, but the iteration and the reiteration of one idea of a disquieting sort the cells of the brain are not proof against.

It is as if the skull were laid bare and the surface of the brain struck lightly wtih a hammer every few seconds with mechanical precision, with never a sign of a stop or the failure of a stroke. Just in this way does the annoying, the maddening thought that will not be done away with, strike or fall upon certain nerve cells, never ceasing, diminishing the vitality of the delicate organisms that are so minute that they can be seen only under the microscope.—"Journal of Physiological Therapeutics."

TIMING CITY EMPLOYES

How long does it take a man to load a wagon of dirt? That is the question which J. W. Burks, director of Los Angeles city's efficiency commission, is trying to solve. For the last week he has had his men out in the Eagle Rock district timing the men of the street department who are working under Foreman J. E. Kalene. It is hoped to be able to time each city employe to the fraction of a second in all his movements. Several of the teamsters declared that the constant scrutiny of Director Burks' men made them so nervous that they could scarcely work.

We are building every day,
In a good or evil way,
And the structure as it grows,
Will our inmost self disclose,
Till in every arch and line,
All our faults and failings shine;
It may be a castle grand,
Or a wreck upon the sand.
—Kennedy.

MAY DISENFRANCHISE 200,000

Two hundred thousand voters in California have failed to state party affiliation in registering and unless they do so they will lose their right to vote at the August primary election. The state law as interpreted by the supreme court, requires a voter to be registered by party in order to vote at the primary. The closing date for registering for the primary is July 30.

Secretary of State Jordan today received reports on registration up to and including June 5 from twenty counties, including San Francisco, Sacramento and Los Angeles. The totals in these 20 counties are, Republican, 264,092; Democrats, 110,055; Progressive, 29,525; Prohibition, 18,599; declined to state, 165,030.

Reports from other counties will bring the number of those who declined to state up to 200,000 or over. The big conventions at Chicago will have a direct effect upon registration in California. If the Progressives again break away from the Republicans practically all those who have declined to state their party in registering will affiliate, it is believed, with the Progressive party. If there is a compromise those who have declined to state as well as those who are now registered Progressive will register as Republicans.

The careless spitter is a public danger.
